Cape Fox Leading the Way with a New Innovation Hub

The health and wellness of communities have become the forefront for many organizations. One of the core concepts for Cape Fox Corporation's (CFC's) mission is to support, enhance, and provide for our communities. CFC believes that by making the community stronger, we are strengthening our corporation, our culture, and ourselves.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

“This year we committed to reconnecting with family, friends, and our community. Our bonds to each other have never been stronger.”

- Clifford Blair

This year has been about reconnection, commitment, authenticity, service, and strength. We have focused this year on reconnecting with others, continuing our commitments to Cape Fox Corporation (CFC), providing an authentic Alaskan experience for visitors, and serving our community with the strength that CFC has because we all work as a team united. We will continue in the remainder of the year to focus on strengthening our investments, committing to the mission and values of CFC, and striving for continued success and achievement. Our commitment to our Shareholders and the business continues each day, as evidenced by many events over the past quarter.

This year has afforded us much to be hopeful for and to celebrate, including the Annual Shareholder Picnic held in June, the Cape Fox Elder Dinner held in August, and the 49th Annual Meeting of Shareholders and Election of Directors held in September. I took pleasure in seeing the happy faces of those in attendance. The election for the new Board of Directors was held successfully. The Board and I enjoy hearing our Shareholders' feedback regarding the company's direction. CFC's mission is to support our Shareholders, and we work together to meet this mission every year.

As a company, we remain strong and thriving. For the commercial business, the first full tourism season in two years afforded CFC many opportunities to offer increased employment opportunities, expand our commercial offerings, and seek new and creative ways to engage with our community. As the tourism season is winding down, our commercial businesses turn their eyes to the holidays and making plans for community events hosted by CFC. Our Federal Contracting Group (FCG) had a busy quarter as well. As the federal budget year came to a close at the end of September, FCG was able to add a few contract wins to its portfolio. So far in 2022, FCG has received $190+ million in new and renewing contract wins, which is a great achievement.

The accolades, awards, and celebrations stand out the most to me as I review the previous quarter. Being able to celebrate as a unified team provides me with much optimism for the future of CFC. The company was recognized again as a leading Alaska business by Alaska Business magazine, Cape Fox Lodge was awarded again with a AAA Best in Housekeeping award for 2022 because of the fantastic housekeeping team, Bar Harbor Ale House hosted its 2nd Annual Beerfest to great success, and CFC won two prestigious awards as Best Travel and Tourism company in Alaska and Best Gourmet Food and Beverage in Alaska by LUXlife Magazine. I am delighted by the continued recognition of the hard work of everyone on team Cape Fox.

In closing, I want to express my gratitude for the opportunity to continue as Board President of CFC. I am delighted to begin planning the celebrations for CFC's 50th anniversary. Our longevity has been forged through our success, and our success is attributed to our extraordinary Shareholders and excellent team of employees who support us daily. CFC stands proud with a legacy of Heritage, Innovation, and Growth. We have seen each of these over the past quarter. I look forward to continuing the path of empowerment and progress as we cherish reminders of our past but keep our eyes to the future.

Cape Fox – Leading the Way with New Innovation Hub

Cape Fox Corporation (CFC) is delighted to announce a new endeavor that will focus on federal and state grant programs that enhance communities with new and innovative technology solutions, the Cape Fox Innovation Hub (Innovation Hub). The Innovation Hub was created to develop emerging and smart technologies that provide, enhance, and strengthen native communities.

CFC has partnered with Planet Defense, LLC to develop and refine the Innovation Hub, and will be supported by founding partners Verizon, Amazon Web Services, and Virginia Smart Community Testbed, which the Virginia Innovation Partnership Corporation (VIPIC) manages, creating a private/public partnership, and will seek additional strategic partners in the future. Innovation is the founding competency for community development, health and wellness, public safety, and workforce empowerment. The vision for the Innovation Hub is tomorrow's community today – the next generation, the next innovation, the next cure. The goal is to transform lives and communities through research and development of new technologies, educate and prepare a future-ready workforce, and strive for excellence. The Innovation Hub will bring advanced technologies to help indigenous peoples globally.

One of the first endeavors for the Innovation Hub is to bring Smart City technologies to Ketchikan, Alaska. VIPIC started the Virginia Smart Community Testbed in Stafford County, Virginia, which is the home to developing smart technology for the Commonwealth. It is the first Smart City Testbed involving an IoT platform, fully integrated with 5G and other emerging technologies for Smart Cities around the country. Through our partnerships, we will have access to existing case studies and applications which can be used to advance the mission of the Innovation Hub in Ketchikan.

By working with our strategic partners, we will maintain the native culture while advancing the community into the world of tomorrow by providing easier access to smart and connected healthcare, advanced online education, research, and public safety using drone technology. The Innovation Hub will collaborate with community leaders and global Indigenous stakeholders to create equity and ensure no indigenous person gets left behind. ■

Cape Fox Cares, the charitable program for Cape Fox Corporation (CFC), supports endeavors that focus on the well-being of communities through education and advancement. In June, Cape Fox Cares donated to the Smart Community STEM Camp (SCSC). As CFC looks to the future with our new CFC Innovation Hub, we are proud to support the educational possibilities for young children who excel and have an interest in technology and advancing communities with modern and emerging technologies.

The SCSC is organized exclusively for charitable scientific, technology, engineering, and math (STEM) educational purposes, more specifically to foster the development of the knowledge, skills, and abilities related to the future of learning, oriented to emerging technologies, and within the context of national security. SCSC will collaborate with the community, both military and civilian, to build curricula and develop STEM programs with academia and industry that contribute to future workforce education and training.

Cape Fox Commercial HIGHLIGHTS

The first full tourism season in two years afforded Cape Fox Corporation (CFC) many opportunities to offer increased employment opportunities, expand our commercial offerings, and seek new and creative ways to engage with our community. Over the past quarter, we saw our commercial businesses celebrate with a community events and receive recognition and awards.

Bar Harbor Ale House

On August 20, 2022, Bar Harbor Ale House hosted its second annual Beerfest for the community. The sun was out, drinks were flowing, music was live, food was delicious, and everyone had a great time. This year's event was a huge success.

Cape Fox Lodge

Cape Fox Lodge (CFL) has made a name for itself with its award-winning service, beautiful views, and friendly atmosphere. Over the past quarter, CFL was awarded again with a AAA Best in Housekeeping award for 2022. This recognition means CFL has significantly surpassed expectations for cleanliness. The criteria for hotels are measured during an inspector's on-site evaluation. This recognition is due in large part to Erin McGovern, Housekeeper Manager, and William Thomas (Billy Joe), Assistant General Manager at CFL, for leading the efforts. In addition, CFC Shareholder, Janet Anderson, has been the "heart and soul" of the housekeeping team. Their hard work exemplifies the spirit of Cape Fox and is one of the reasons CFL is receiving this recognition.

Tourism Season 2022 Highlights

As tourism season begins to wind down, we reflect on many of the successes that we saw this year. These successes include:

- More commercial hires than previous seasons. Cape Fox Corporation's (CFC) commercial businesses presented many more employment opportunities this year than ever before.
- The Village Store has broken its sales record for the season. This is in large part due to the creativity and partnership of Kelly White and Jeremy Barrett.
- The Cape Fox team added more transportation options for the business to offer, led by the excellent management of Adrianna Oliva-Parks, Deandra Banie, and Eian Parks.
- Cape Fox Lodge increased its Best Available Rate to a new high and will continue to increase these numbers for the 2023 tourism season.
- One of the best highlights for tourism season 2022 has been the launch of new, successful tours, including a first-year offering of a tour at White River. This success has already yielded a growing demand as preparations begin for 2023's tourism season.

As we head into the next quarter, we look forward to continuing to invest more in the commercial businesses with new partnerships and investments. We will soon have another restaurant to add to our commercial business family with CFC's pizzeria, Eagles Nest. Eagles Nest will be located at Cape Fox Lodge. Cape Fox Lodge is also in the midst of a renovation project with the tram. The tram is a highly sought-after attraction to visitors of the Lodge. As tourism season 2022 winds down, we take stock of our successes this year and begin looking toward the future and making plans for tourism season 2023. ■

Cape Fox Corporation
Steadily Growing as a

LEADING ALASKA BUSINESS

The Alaska Business Magazine's Top 49ers in business rankings have been released, and Cape Fox Corporation (CFC) is proud to have risen in the rankings again for 2022. Alaska Business, a monthly Alaska magazine that provides insights, discussions, and spotlights on Alaska business and the various industries throughout the state, has named CFC #26 in top Alaska businesses for 2022. CFC ranked #28 in 2021. CFC's continuous increase up the ladder in rankings is a testament to the hard work and success the company has enjoyed for six consecutive years.

Alaska Business is the premier magazine and website publication for businesses in Alaska that covers news and recognition of Alaska businesses from large multinational corporations to small businesses. The magazine has awarded the Top 49er award to companies since 1985. This award recognizes companies ranked by their gross revenue. To be recognized, an enterprise must be at least 51 percent Alaska-owned with operations in the state. The Top 49er recognition includes Alaska's major business sectors, including Alaska Native, transportation, oil and gas, finance, construction, and retail.

CFC has seen steady growth over the past few years. This growth is due in large part to our Shareholders, employees, and customers. We are a team and a family, and this award is for all of us and our hard work and dedication.
